

A SPECIAL OFFER FOR AMATYC ATTENDEES:
RECEIVE HALF PRICE TICKETS TO THE CLEAN HOUSE

The Clean House

By Sarah Ruhl

Directed by Stan Wojewodski, Jr.

October 19 – November 18, 2007

At Mixed Blood's Alan Page Auditorium

From MacArthur “genius grant” recipient Sarah Ruhl, a poetic playwright with the gift of gag, comes The Clean House, a play with kaleidoscopic sensibilities that takes the simple tasks of housecleaning and joke-telling and gives them transcendental levels of meaning. This fast-moving, compassionate comedy revolves around Matilde, a maid (who hates cleaning) on a mission to find the perfect joke (her parents were the funniest people in Brazil). Her presence leads to the amazing transformations of a household, of disconnected women, and of classes while arguing that the best things in life — a sublime joke, a fulfilling purpose, a soul mate, even a satisfactory death — are infinitely worth waiting for.

RECEIVE HALF-PRICE TICKETS TO THE FOLLOWING PERFORMANCES:

Thursday, November 1, 2007 – 7:30pm (Your Price: $10)

Friday, November 2, 2007 – 7:30pm (Your Price: $11)

Saturday, November 3, 2007 – 7:30pm (Your Price: $13)

Sunday, November 4, 2007 – 3:00pm (Your Price: $11)

A $1/ticket service fee will be added to all orders.*

To order: Call (612) 338-6131 and mention “CONFERENCE OFFER” to get your half-price tickets. Offer is not valid online, on previously purchased tickets, or with any other offer. Subject to availability.

Mixed Blood Theatre is a professional, multi-racial theatre company promoting cultural pluralism and individual equality through artistic excellence. Using theater as a vehicle for artistry, entertainment, education, and social change, Mixed Blood Theatre addresses artificial barriers that keep people from succeeding in American society. Founded in 1976, Mixed Blood Theatre makes its home in a converted 19th century firehouse on the West Bank of the Mississippi River.

Mixed Blood Theatre | 1501 S. Fourth Street, Minneapolis | www.mixedblood.com | 612.338.6131